June 7, Lift assist.

Chief Seley reported that the department received payment for three past runs ($500.00 each).

Site permits:

Rachel and Gideon Deming received a site permit for a pole barn. Site permit fee $20.

Old business:

The Oliver Township sign has been installed on the hall and looks good.

New business:

Assessor Dave McArther reported that there would be no need for a July board of review.

Dave McArther's contract is up at the end of June. Dave did not want to renew his contract with the township. He said he would work with the township on a month-to-month basis while we were actively seeking a new assessor.

The Michigan Township Association, Huron County chapter will meet at the public library in Pigeon on June 15. Adam Herford, Larry Krohn, Kevin Mckenzie and Bob Ross will attend meeting. Cost is $10 per person.

Supervisor Tom Ziel reported that the road commission had not given a bill yet for this year's beginning work. Wilkinson solutions sent a bill for some road brining.

County Commissioner Steve Vaughan gave a report on ongoing projects in the county. He also gave a report about the process the county goes through to certify a death certificate in certain situations where a toxicology report is needed. They were working to streamline that process to help families get their paperwork sooner.

Oliver Township has signed the agreement for the wind tax appeal and it is in process. We will have to pay back approximately $17,000 but it will be withheld by the county from the next tax payment to the township.
